The advisers, service providers and organisations referred to in the paragraphs above may use personal data to perform their functions as well as for statistical and financial modelling (such as calculating expected average benefit costs and mortality rates) and planning, business administration and regulatory purposes. They may also pass the data to other third parties (for example, insurers may pass personal data to other insurance companies for the purpose of obtaining reinsurance), to the extent they consider it is appropriate to do so.

Where requested or if we consider that it is reasonably required, we may also provide your personal data to pensions dashboards (for further information please refer to Money & Pensions Service website - <https://maps.org.uk/en/our-work/pensions>), government bodies and dispute resolution and law enforcement organisations, including the courts, the Pensions Regulator, the Pensions Ombudsman, the Pension Protection Fund and Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs (HMRC). They may then use the data to carry out their functions.

Transferring personal data outside the UK

In some cases recipients of your personal data may be outside the UK. This may include affiliates / overseas offices of the Scheme's service providers. This means your personal data may be transferred outside the UK to a jurisdiction that may not offer an equivalent level of protection as is provided in the UK. Additional safeguards are in place to protect your personal data when we transfer it outside the UK as we ensure that at least one of the following measures is relied on:

- the transfer is to a country that has been deemed to provide an adequate level of protection for personal data by the UK Secretary of State; or
- standard contractual clauses (approved by the relevant governmental or supervisory authority) are in place with the recipient of the data requiring your personal data to be safeguarded in accordance with applicable laws.

Please contact the Trustee, using the contact details below, if you require further information about the safeguards that are currently in place.

How long we keep your personal data

We will only keep your personal data for as long as we need to in order to fulfil the purposes identified above and detailed further in the Schedule. In practice this means that we will retain your data for such period as you (or any beneficiary who receives benefits after your death) are entitled to benefits from the Scheme and for so long afterwards as may be required to deal with any questions, complaints or claims that we may receive about our administration of the Scheme. We may also retain your data for a longer period to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations.

Your rights

You have a right to access and obtain a copy of the personal data that the Trustee holds about you and to ask the Trustee to correct your personal data if there are any errors or it is out of date or incomplete.

You have a right to ask the Trustee to erase your personal data where it is being processed on a legal ground other than for complying with a legal obligation and where:

- you believe we no longer need to process the personal data for the purposes identified above and detailed further in the Schedule;
- you had given consent to the processing of the personal data, but you subsequently withdraw your consent and there is no other lawful basis upon which we can process the personal data;
- the personal data has been processed unlawfully or it has not been erased when it should have been; or
- you have been successful in objecting to the processing.

In some cases, you may also have a right to request that the processing of your personal data be restricted or to transfer your personal data (for example, to another pension scheme).

In certain circumstances, you also have the right to object to the processing of your personal data, for example:

- where we rely on legitimate interests as our lawful basis for processing; in which case, we must carry out an exercise balancing our legitimate interests with your rights and freedoms as a data subject (if you disagree with the outcome of that balancing exercise you have the right to refer the matter to the ICO); or
- where the processing is for direct marketing purposes.

Where we rely upon your consent to lawfully process your personal data, including explicit consent, you have the right to withdraw your consent to the processing at any time by notifying the Trustee in writing. Withdrawal of consent will not affect the lawfulness of processing based on your consent before it is withdrawn.

You can obtain further information about these rights from the Information Commissioner's Office at: www.ico.org.uk or via their telephone helpline (0303 123 1113).

If you wish to exercise any of these rights or have any queries or concerns regarding the processing of your personal data, please contact the Trustee using the contact details provided below. You also have the right to lodge a complaint in relation to this privacy notice or the Trustee's processing activities with the Information Commissioner's Office, you can do this via the ICO's website or telephone helpline.

As explained in this privacy notice, one of the reasons we collect and hold your personal data is to administer your Scheme benefits and we may from time to time ask for further information from you for this purpose. If you do not provide the information we request, withdraw your consent to the processing, or ask that the personal data we already hold is deleted or that the processing of the personal data be restricted, this may affect our ability to administer your benefits, including the payment of benefits from the Scheme. In some cases it could mean the Trustee is unable to put your pension into payment or has to stop your pension (if already in payment).

We may update this notice periodically. Where we do this, we will inform you of the changes and the date on which the changes take effect.
